What to track in the flight application:

- Time to create a new flight
  Start to record time when new flight page is rendered and stop when the user go out from the page
  There is also a boolean that says if the user has created a new flight or it is go out before finishing it

- position of the clicks and time of it

- # backspace inserted

- List of page visited with relative datetime

- Going back button pressed, src page name and destination time